Love Stories Barred at a College. Love stories and co-education make a bad combination, according to Professor J. P. Odell, who has charge of the fiction classes at Northwestern university, and he has issued an edict that all highly sentimental romance must give way for sterner stuff, says a Chicago dispatch. A tendency to make "goose eyes" has developed among the students.

How Gen. Miles Captured the South. "General Miles," said a southern member of congress to the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, "is growing very popular south of Mason and Dixon's line. The change of sentiment began with a little speech he made some time ago at Charlottesville, Va., at a session of the national good roads convention. 'I am glad to see a marked improvement in the roads in this part of Virginia,' said General Miles. 'More than a generation ago I tried to get over these roads,' he continued, referring to his operations in the vicinity against Confederate troops, 'but I found nearly every highway absolutely impassable.' This humorous and subtle tribute to the valor of southern arms was warmly applauded in Charlottesville, and as the remark has traveled throughout the south it has won for the general pleasant welcomes from Maryland to Texas."

Cannon as Speaker and "Uncle Joe." An old friend walked into the room of the committee on appropriations in the house the other day, says the Washington correspondent of the New York World, and said to "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who was there waiting to be surprised by the news that he had been elected speaker, "I came in to pay my last farewell to Joe Cannon."

"What's the matter?" asked Cannon. "Going away or going to die?" "Neither, but in a few minutes it will be Speaker Cannon, and I am afraid that will be the end of 'Uncle Joe'."

"Don't you believe it," Cannon replied warmly. "Of course I'll be the speaker when I am in there, but there'll be plenty of times when I'll be plain Joe Cannon."

ADDITIONAL POSITIVE PROOF

C. Allis, 181 Summer street, Springfield, Mass., says: "I have used Dr. Casson's Kidney and Bladder Cure with the best of results. I got a sample and used it as they told me, and the sample did me so much good I continued using the Cure. I have suffered more or less for the past three years with my kidneys. At times I could not get up without help. I began using your Tablets and have continued to get better right along, and now I feel that I am well. I take pleasure in recommending this great remedy to my friends."
